SUGAR CREEK, O.

No. 1

J. C. Miller,                      Proprietor.
J. M. Richardson,              Editor.

TERMS:

50 cts. a year, in advance.

THE BUDGET.

In presenting to the public the first issue of the Budget we feel that sense of humility that usually emanates from a knowledge of the criticisms which our little paper and all others of its kind usually meet on being introduced to the reading public.

But dear reader all we ask is that we may meet your recognition.

It is not our object to attempt social, political, or religious reforms.

It would seem that a new publication brought out without any of these objects was without purpose.

Such however is not the case.

Our purpose is to conduct our newspaper in the interest of our village and the vicinity, to give the current news, and to aid in propagating any movement for the general good.

We do not look for our support to sectional jealousies, or contentions between different villages or localities, but desire the patronage of all and distribute all favors equally.

Independent in all things, we maintain the ground of neutrality, and shall fearlessly publish whatever may be of interest and conducive of good morals.

A newspaper in a village, although a small one, is most surely beneficial, and every citizen interested in the prosperity, growth, or business affairs of his place should give it his support.

The Budget will be published regularly Semi-Monthly, and we hope that all who may read this copy have a kindly feeling toward this our first Journalistic enterprise, will make it manifest by sending in their subscriptions, and advertisements.

FINED.

Last Saturday night a young man living a few miles from Shanesville, visited that village, and filled up with tanglefoot. On leaving town he saw fit to break off and destroy several ornamental trees, which Mr. J. H. Wallick had planted along the side walk in front of his residence. Mr. Wallick promptly got out a warrant and had him arrested and brought before Squire Zollars, where he plead guilty, and fine and costs were placed at about Nineteen Dollars.

This affair should teach some people that trees are not planted along the streets to be destroyed.

A great many people are in the habit of using ornamental and shade trees as hitching posts, and thus injuring and destroying them.

The law is very strict in such cases. We withhold the young mans name, hoping it will be a lesson for him, and that in the future he may not let Benzine and his baser propensities get the better of him.

Mr. Moyer, father of our popular Station agent, was in town last Tuesday and Wednesday, looking up the interests of the Canton Repository.

Several very fine large carp have been caught in Sugar Creek this spring. On last Sat. Mr. Levi Hostetler succeeded in landing one which measured 16 in. in length and weighed 2 3-4 lbs. and on the same day Mr. John Deetz captured one which weighed 3 lbs. Two yrs. ago several thousand young carp were placed in the creek by owners of ponds and the result speaks well for the deed.

If you desire to see a fine lot of ladies spring and summer hats call on Mrs. N. C. Beachy. Mrs. B. evinces good taste in the artistic manner in which she trims them.

Miss Mary A. Miller has started a subscription School for primary Scholars, and we learn she has secured quite a number of the little folks. Miss Miller is an energetic young woman and parents who have Children of the school age should not neglect this chance, as it is much better to have them under the care of a kind and efficient teacher, than to have them running about the streets and sowing the seeds of vice.

Mr. E. Habenstein of Mt. Hope gave us a look at his smiling countenance a few days ago. We learn he has been employed by N. C. Beachy as an agent for the Solid Comfort Plow.

The man who imagines he is a four horse team with a dog under the wagon sometimes has a bigger load than he can pull.

STRAIGHT FORWARDNESS.

Many persons pride themselves on what they are pleased to call straight forwardness. In the true meaning of the term it is all right.

The principle of fair, honest, straight forward dealing, is a jewel of priceless value wherever found. But is this the estimate generally made of it. Most of those who boast of their straight forwardness imagine that it gives them license to cast insults in the teeth of others without restriction. Although they may speak the truth, it is sometimes insulting and even painful to have it cast at you at improper places, and persons who do such acts are usually loud mouthed, boorish, illmannered, cold blooded, and addle pated characters, who are apt to be disliked by their fellow man. Straight forwardness when it leads to honesty and integrity is to be commended; but when the other meaning is taken and it leads coarseness and a disregard for others feelings, is to be condemned.

Misses Nellie and Bertie Kinney of Coshocton, were visiting friends in this place and Shanesville over Sunday.

OBITUARY.

The people of this vicinity were grieved to hear of the death of Rev. J. G. Zahner, D. D. late of Shanesville. He died May 7th at Bloomville, Seneca Co. to which place he had moved only a few days since to make his home with a daughter residing there, and was buried at that place on Saturday, May 10th.

Rev. Zahner was born in Germany, in the state of Wurtemberg in the year 1820, and at the time of his death was nearly 70 years old. During the latter part of winter he took the grippe, from the attack of which he never fully recovered. The immediate cause of his death was quick consumption.

He came to this country about 43 yrs. ago' and took charge of the German Reformed Church at Shanesville, which place has with the exception of a short interval, been his home ever since.

Rev. Zahner served as county school examiner of Tus. Co. for a period of 20 yrs 7 mo. continuous and many teachers who read this or hear of his departure will mourn him as a departed friend. His fair dealing and integrity won the respect of all.

He was connected with different German religious publications and exercised a great influence in his church.

Being an indefatigable brain worker, he devoted his energies to last to the benefit of his fellow man. When the Master calls him he will show that he has gained other talents to those given him.

In the world to come may he enjoy the quiet and rest he denied himself in this.

Good prospects for a large wheat and hay crop.

School Book Law.

The Geyser school book bill has become a law. The Governor, School Commissioner, the Supervisor of Public Printing, and two persons appointed by the governor constitute the school book board.

The price for school books for all grades shall in no case exceed 80 per cent of the lowest whole-sale price.

The School Commissioner has the right to invite bids from different publishers to furnish all school books required, and publishers shall give bond for the fulfillment of contract. The boards of education throughout the state will be notified by circulars and they in turn report books required. The publishers furnish books direct to the school boards, who pay for the books and cost of transportation out of the contingent fund. School boards then arrange with a dealer or agents who furnish them to pupils at prices not to exceed the contract price and ten per cent.

School boards are required to try to get the books cheaper than the rates established.

Should this measure pave the way to free text books, it may prove a blessing in disguise.

J. L. Carson and E. P. West have been appointed members of of the school book board.

GREAT! Sebastian!! Smith!!!

Was in our place last Monday and Tuesday giving himself an airing. Represented himself as prospecting agent of Howells and Lee of someplace. Run his brass face for money, got into trouble; held a consultation with the Constable and Justice of the Peace. Left town. Mean town! Whoop!!

Jacob Naragon is employed in selling nursery stock for Wm. Rice of Dundee.

Mr. E. B. Baker contemplates moving his dry goods store in the near future to Magnolia, O. By the move we lose a good citizen and business man, but what is our loss will be Magnolia's gain. Mr. Sliffe his clerk thinks of remaining here and is consequently obliged to resign his position; but Mr. S. being a first class fellow, it will not be long until he will get other employment. Hate to see you go Ed. but so wags the world.

Our old friend Moses Hostetler, is again able to make his appearance on our streets. For the past six month Mr. Hostetler has not been able to get away from home, and during the greater part of that time was confined to his bed. We are glad to see the change for the better.

Progressive Farming.

Although the strides of science, manufacture, commerce and invention have been wonderful, agriculture has kept pace alongside.

Probably if we were to look up the history of its progress we should find as much to astonish us as we do in other directions.

the farmer to day is no more the uneducated serf of the Dark Ages, but has become the true yeoman of the land. He is ever on the lookout for something to lighten his task and make his work bring better results. Breaking the soil comes first.

THE BUDGET.

Sugar Creek, O. May 15, 1890

Sabbath School.

The Sugar Creek Union Sabbath School is in fair progressive condition, and the outlook is that it will be a grand success. Every one in our village should feel as if its prosperity depended partially on his or her individual labor. Do not wait for some one else to go ahead, because there is work for all.

It is a difficult matter to suit every one in such things, but the minority should always submit to the majority. If circumstances do not suit us, let us suit ourselves to the circumstances. Petty jealousies should be laid aside.

'Tis true we are slightly afflicted with the disposition of Cain. His jealousy caused him to slay his brother. But it is rarely carried to such extremes, we find it permeating societies of all kinds, and do more evil than all other causes combined.

So let us all enter into the Sabbath School work, wholesouled and unselfish, ready to sacrifice our own inclinations for the accommodation of others.

Pat. "Arrah, John, where did yez get yer broad faced toorkey?"

John. "That's no turkey, Pat, thats an owl".

Pat, "It's not I es iscarin' how ould he is Oim goin' to hev him anyhow."

On Thursday May 8th. they had quite a little fall of snow at Mt. Hope, Holmes Co., O.

If any of our farmer friends feel like trying to enjoy Solid Comfort they should consult N. C. Beachy Sugar Creek, O.

Work at the tile factory under full headway. Mr. Fulton manufactures first class drain tile.

The smile of the county candidate is seen in the land.
